Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today's scripture readings urge us to be aware of the effect that jealousy and selfish ambition have on a person. They lead to division, hatred and dysfunction, and to attitudes and behaviors that are counter to Gospel values. While distrust and selfish ambition are all around us, our readings today remind us of the importance of being witnesses of a different way of living and loving. St. James exhorts his community, and us as followers of Jesus, to possess the wisdom of God, which is "pure, peaceable, gentle, compliant, full of mercy and good fruits, without inconstancy or insincerity." It is this wisdom of God that we are called to bring to the world now.

WEEKLY SCRIPTURES & THOUGHTS
For the Parish Family of Saint Christine

TWENTY FIFTH SUNDAY
OF ORDINARY TIME
September 22, 2024

Reading

WIS 2:12, 17-20

As a foretelling of Jesus' death, they want to kill the son of God. Have evil people tried to put a wedge between you and God? "God will defend."

The wicked say: Let us beset the just one, because he is obnoxious to us; he sets himself against our doings, reproaches us for transgressions of the law and charges us with violations of our training. Let us see whether his words be true; let us find out what will happen to him. For if the just one be the son of God, God will defend him and deliver him from the hand of his foes. With revilement and torture let us put the just one to the test that we may have proof of his gentleness and try his patience. Let us condemn him to a shameful death; for according to his own words, God will take care of him.

Psalm

Ps 54:3-4, 5, 6 and 8

David has found himself with men rising against him. He prays for God to defend his cause. Like the author of the Wisdom reading, he knows that "God will defend him". Can you embrace God's strength when you are under siege?

R. The Lord upholds my life.

O God, by your name save me,
and by your might defend my cause.

O God, hear my prayer;
hearken to the words of my mouth.

R. The Lord upholds my life.

For the haughty men have risen up against me,
the ruthless seek my life;
they set not God before their eyes.

R. The Lord upholds my life.

Behold, God is my helper;
the Lord sustains my life.

Freely will I offer you sacrifice;

I will praise your name, O LORD, for its goodness.

R. The Lord upholds my life. .

Reading

Jas 3:16—4:3

Our selfish ambition comes from envy, coveting, and jealousy. We ask but do not receive because we ask wrongly. Do you look into why you want something and find out the reasons are lacking? God will fulfill our needs if we ask.

Beloved:

Where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there is disorder and every foul practice. But the wisdom from above is first of all pure, then peaceable, gentle, compliant, full of mercy and good fruits, without inconsistency or insincerity. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace for those who cultivate peace.

Where do the wars and where do the conflicts among you come from? Is it not from your passions that make war within your members? You covet but do not possess. You kill and envy but you cannot obtain; you fight and wage war. You do not possess because you do not ask. You ask but do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions. .

Alleluia

R. Alleluia, alleluia.

God has called us through the Gospel to possess the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. .

R. Alleluia, alleluia.

Gospel

Mk 9:30-37

After hearing their desires to be great, Jesus tells them that they must become a servant to be allowed in the Kingdom of Heaven. Have you had great ambitions only to be thwarted by those exact thoughts?

Jesus and his disciples left from there and began a journey through Galilee, but he did not wish anyone to know about it. He was teaching his disciples and telling them, "The Son of Man is to be handed over to men and they will kill him, and three days after his death the Son of Man will rise." But they did not understand the saying, and they were afraid to question him. They came to Capernaum and, once inside the house, he began to ask them, "What were you arguing about on the way?" But they remained silent. They had been discussing among themselves on the way who was the greatest. Then he sat down, called the Twelve, and said to them, "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." Taking a child, he placed it in their midst, and putting his arms around it, he said to them, "Whoever receives one child such as this in my name, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not me but the One who sent me."

Some Thoughts: Jesus, the Formator “To follow” was a term that was part of the system of education at that time. It was used to indicate the relationship between disciple and master. The relationship between disciple and master is different from that of teacher and student. Students follow the lessons of the teacher on some particular subject. Disciples “follow” the master and live with him all the time. It is during this period of “living together” for three years that the disciples will receive their formation. A formation in the “following of Jesus” was not just the passing on of some decorative truths, but the communication of a new experience of God and of the life that shone from Jesus for the disciples. The very community that grew around Jesus was the expression of this new experience. This formation led people to see things differently, to different attitudes. It created in them a new awareness concerning the mission and respect for self. It made them take the side of the excluded. It produced a “conversion”, the consequence of having accepted the Good News (Mk 1:15). Jesus is the axle, the centre, the model, the point of reference of the community. He shows the road to follow, he is “the way, the truth and the life” (Jn 14:6). His attitude is proof and an exposition of the Kingdom: he makes the love of the Father transparent and incarnates and reveals it (Mk 6:31; Mt 10:30; Lk 15:11-32). Jesus is a “meaningful person” for them, who will leave on them a permanent mark. Many small gestures mirror this witness of life that Jesus gave by his presence in the life of the disciples. It was his way of giving human form to the experience he had of the Father. In this way of being and sharing, of relating to people, of leading the people and of listening to those who came to him, Jesus is seen:

- * as the person of peace, who inspires and reconciles: “Peace be with you!” (Jn. 20:19; Mt 10:26-33; Mt 18:22; Jn 20:23; Mt 16:19; Mt 18:18);
- * as a free person and one who liberates, who awakens freedom and liberation: “The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath” (Mk 2:27; 2:18-23); as a person of prayer, whom we see praying at all important moments of his life and who inspires others to prayer: “Lord, teach us to pray!”
- * as a welcoming person who is always present in the lives of the disciples and who welcomes them when they come back from the mission (Lk 10:7);
- * as a realistic and observing person who arouses the attention of the disciples in matters of life by teaching them in Parables (Lk 8:4-8);
- * as a caring person always paying attention to the disciples (Jn 21:9), who looks after their rest and who wishes to stay with them so that they may rest (Mk 6:31)

Front Porch with God

Me: Good morning Father...any kids around?

God: Ah, good morning my friend. I haven't seen any children yet this morning. Why do you ask?

Me: Well, late in today's gospel, your Son mentioned receiving children. It just struck me that a lot of little kids can be difficult, so it might be hard to 'receive' them, y'know?

God: Oh, I've seen all of the behaviors - in adults too!

Me: That's not good

God: No, it is not. There is a great difference between being child-like and child-ish. We can comfortably receive the child-like. The child-ish, not so much.

Me: Like in James today, talking about wars and stuff?

God: YES! Why won't you listen to one another? If you say it's bad and someone else says it is good, talk it out. Don't be childish and fight it out. Talk. Listen. Discuss. It might take longer but it hurts less, and the wounds are far less damaging.

Me: Well, we seem to prefer that quick fix

God: True. And it makes me use every ounce of my patience with you all

Me: I thought your patience and forgiveness were everlasting

God: They are - and still you push me to my limits sometime!

Me: We're just overgrown children I guess

God: Don't make it sound so simple and understandable. Surely you can find better ways to deal with problems than by calling one another names and starting to throw physical as well as verbal punches

Me: I'm sure we could but...

God:..."but"...I do not like that word! You use it as a wide-open excuse for whatever you want to do or have!

Me:sorry...pretty child-ish isn't it?

God: More than you know.
